

TRAILS

in Georgia's Classic South

Classic Courthouses Trail

Enjoy a driving tour of historic courthouses in East Central Georgia. Georgia has more counties than any other state except Texas, a circumstance that has given the state a wealth of historic courthouses. Twenty-two of these stand in East Central Georgia. All are listed on the National Register of Historic Places and most are open to visitors during normal business hours. 478-864-0048

Georgia's Woodpecker Trail

Once billed as "the shortest route to Florida's West Coast," this scenic and historic route along state routes 25/121, stretches 620 miles from Charlotte, NC, to St. Petersburg, FL. 204 miles run through the real Georgia, beginning in Augusta and ending in Folkston. As evoked in Warren Harvey's song, the trail features many quaint small towns, rolling farmlands, as well as historic marvels and unspoiled natural beauty. 912-685-2159 • www.woodpeckertrail.com

March to the Sea Heritage Trail

This Civil War historic driving route follows the left and right "wings" of Major General William Tecumseh

Sherman's five week March to the Sea as he ripped the heart out of the Confederacy and made Georgia howl. A brochure depicts the driving routes along many of the same roads Sherman's troops marched. www.gcwht.org

The Bartram Trail in East Central Georgia

Retrace the steps of William Bartram, America's first naturalist, as he explored Georgia around the time of the American Revolution. While much of what Bartram chronicled has been altered by man and time, glimpses of this remarkable natural world can be seen in the heart of Bartram's travels in Georgia. www.classicsouth.org
